

Key Themes to look out for

- A modern attitude towards wealth and extravagance
- Three different locations, all with a unique approach
- Contemporary & premium designs & patterns
- Key colours are black, white & metallic colours

Neutral and earth tones haven't been forgotten, but 2019 is all about sophisticated, bold uses of blacks and metallics in striking patterns and blocks of colour.

Where previous trends have been discrete in their uses of colour and pattern.

Influenced by three trend setting locations each bring something unique and exciting to the table.

- London - A playground for the young and the rich. Young Money is inspired by the "Rich kids of Instagram" generation. Bold colours, generous uses of gold, statement patterns and textures.
- New York - The home of "old money". New York still embraces traditional values and style. Traditional whiteware, made from premium porcelain and fine china, accented by subtle splashes of gold. Cut crystal glassware is a staple as is delicate and fine premium stemware.
- Croatia - One of the hottest destinations of 2018-2019. Croatia is fast becoming a tropical refuge for the rich and famous. Outstanding dining and drinking venues with breathtaking views. The tropical splendour offered takes the expectations of high-end dining and merges it seamlessly with a creative and stunning array of colours patterns and shapes.

All three avenues of this trend tackle the covetous nature we all have, heightened by an era of reality TV following the lives of the rich and famous and social media trends designed to boast an extravagant and wealthy lifestyle. Everybody wants a taste of the opulent high life, and that's exactly what this trend aims to deliver.

Tropical Splendour Croatia

Metallics and reds are a strong component of both “Young Money” and “Tropical Splendour” sub trends. Use bold blocks of either to complement elegant white tableware.

Embrace tropical style with unique uses of stone effect, colours and patterns.

An easy way to integrate this trend into bars and other drinking venues is by revamping glassware and bar equipment used. Glassware that looks and feels premium and contemporary is affordable and has an almost limitless option. Barware is also available in a multitude of colours and styles from copper, gunmetal and gold to name a few.

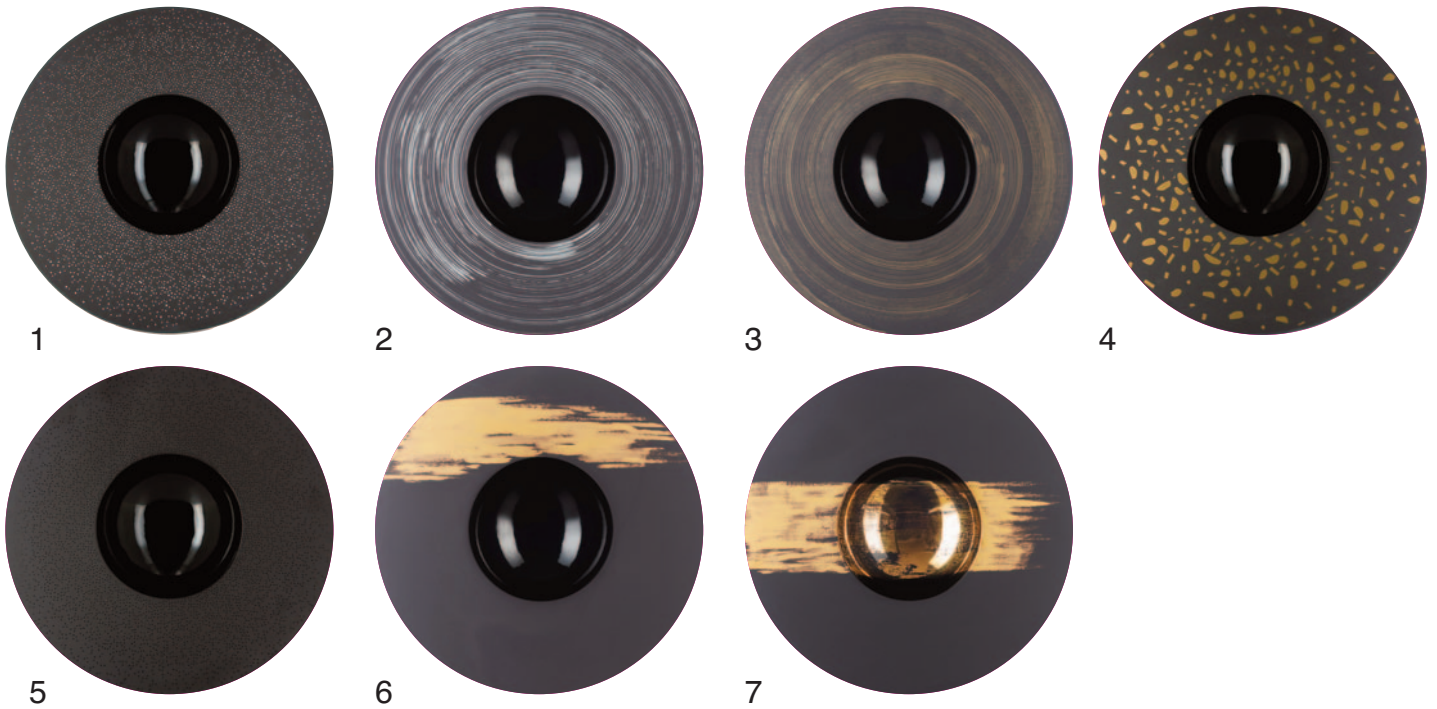

Double Old Fashioned glasses with slight shaping to the base are a modern twist on a stylish and classic glass size.
